Einleitung

Das Thema „Afrika“ hat für die Stadt- und Universitätsbibliothek Frankfurt am Main eine besondere Bedeutung, da „Afrika südlich der Sahara“ zu den von der Deutschen Forschungsgemeinschaft geförderten Sondersammelgebieten unseres Hauses gehört.

Bereits vor Übernahme des Sondersammelgebietes befand sich in Frankfurt eine traditionsreiche Afrikasammlung. Das erste größere Legat der orientalisch-afrikanischen Sammlung verdankt die damalige Stadtbibliothek dem Begründer der Äthiopistik Job Ludolf (1624–1704). Mit einer Arbeit über die Sprache der Hottentotten steht er auch am Beginn der deutschsprachigen Afrikanistik. Eine wertvolle äthiopische Handschriftensammlung wurde der Bibliothek durch den Naturwissenschaftler Eduard Rüppell (1794–1884) übereignet.

Die Afrikabestände blieben dann durch den Kauf zeitgenössischer Forschungs- und Expeditionsberichte auf dem aktuellen Stand und erhielten schließlich durch die „Bibliothek der Deutschen Kolonialgesellschaft“ eine Ausweitung auf alle Fachbereiche. Dieses unschätzbare Grundmaterial (ca. 15.000 Monographientitel, sowie eine große Zahl an Kolonialzeitschriften) gab Anlaß zu ständiger Ausweitung des Bestandes an Afrikaliteratur. Die Zuweisung des Bereiches als Sondersammelgebiet 6,31, „Afrika südlich der Sahara“, durch die Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft im Jahre 1964 verpflichtet die Bibliothek zum möglichst umfassenden Kauf der ausländischen und deutschen Literatur zu diesem Gebiet.

Regional gehören zum Sondersammelgebiet „Afrika südlich der Sahara“ die Staaten südlich der Sahara, sachlich alle Fachgebiete mit Ausnahme von moderner Wirtschaft, Recht, Medizin und Naturwissenschaften.

Bis zum Zweiten Weltkrieg wurde Literatur über Gesamtfrika gesammelt; nach dem Zweiten Weltkrieg lag der Schwerpunkt im Bereich südlich der Sahara.

Im Rahmen des Sondersammelgebietes wird der vorhandene Bestand systematisch ergänzt, die zugängliche wissenschaftliche Literatur aus Europa und Übersee beschafft, desgleichen – soweit greifbar – Material aus Afrika unmittelbar. Die Afrikasammlung ist inzwischen auf eine Bandzahl von über 120.000 angewachsen.

Im Rahmen dieses Sammelauftrages sieht die Stadt- und Universitätsbibliothek Frankfurt a.M. es als ihre Aufgabe an, die Bestände einem möglichst großen Kreis bekannt zu machen. Ein Weg dahin ist die Publikation unseres Fachkataloges Afrika.

Der Frankfurter Sachkatalog ist nach der Methode „Eppelsheimer“ gegliedert, deren Hauptkennzeichen die Kombination dreier Katalogteile ist, die sich gegenseitig ergänzen:

1. Der Systematische Katalog, gegliedert nach Wissenschaftsfächern
2. Der Länderkatalog, der Literatur zu einzelnen Ländern und Kontinenten enthält
3. Der Biographische Katalog mit Material über einzelne Personen.

Der Länderkatalog ist nach feststehenden Länderkennziffern und Schlüsselnummern gegliedert, letztere sind im Anhang wiedergegeben. Unter jeder Schlüsselnummer sind die Eintragungen alphabetisch geordnet. Der „Fachkatalog Afrika“ umfaßt die Länderkennziffern 300 bis 399; der vorliegende Band 12,3 die Länderkennziffer 360 Nigeria.

Auf jeder Titeltkarte befindet sich unter dem Titel nach einem Pfeil die Signatur, unter der das Buch über die zuständige Bibliothek bei der Stadt- und Universitätsbibliothek Frankfurt am Main bestellt werden kann.

Redaktionsschluß war im Dezember 1994. Eine ständig Aktualisierung des Kataloges ist durch die „Neuerwerbungslisten Afrika“ gegeben.

Es ist geplant, in regelmäßiger Folge weitere Abschnitte des Fachkataloges Afrika auszudrucken.

Mein besonderer Dank gilt allen Mitarbeitern für ihren Einsatz, ohne den ein Ausdruck des Kataloges nicht möglich gewesen wäre.

Introduction

The subject "Africa South of the Sahara" is of special significance for the Stadt- und Universitätsbibliothek in Frankfurt am Main, being one of our special collections sponsored by the Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft (German Research Society).

Frankfurt has had an Africa collection with a distinguished tradition even before the establishment of the special collections program. The origins of the Oriental and African collection in the former municipal library go back to a donation by the founder of Ethiopian Studies, Job Ludolf (1624–1704), who with his papers on the language of the Hottentots was also one of the first to explore African linguistics. A valuable collection of Ethiopian manuscripts was bequeathed to the library by the natural scientist Eduard Rüppell (1794–1884).

The material on Africa was then kept up-to-date by the acquisition of contemporary expedition and research reports. With the Addition of the "Bibliothek der Deutschen Kolonialgesellschaft" (Library of the German Colonial Society) the scope of the collection was finally extended to include all related areas. These valuable original holdings (about 15,000 monographs as well as a great number of colonial periodicals) were enough reason to continue and intensify the ad hoc acquisition of African literature. The designation of this area as special collection no. 6,31, "Africa South of the Sahara", by the German Research Society in 1964 obliges the library to acquire German as well as foreign literature as comprehensively as possible.

Geographically, this area covers Africa south of the Sahara; the subject matter covers all fields, with the exception of modern economics, law, medicine and natural sciences.

The present holdings are constantly being enlarged. In addition, we attempt to acquire as completely as possible all available research literature from Europe and Overseas, as well as material directly from Africa. The Africa collection has grown to over 100,000 volumes. Before World War II, we collected literature covering the entire African continent; since World War II, the emphasis has shifted to Africa south of the Sahara.

We consider it our duty to make our holdings known to the public at large through the publication of our Africa Catalogue.

The material in the Frankfurt subject catalog is classified according to the Eppelsheimer method. This method's outstanding characteristic is its combination of three catalog sections, which complement each other:

1. The systematic catalog, divided into research fields
2. The geographical catalog, which contains material pertaining to the different countries -and continents
3. The biographical catalog, with references on individual persons.

Each section of the catalog is arranged according to fixed country numbers and code numbers, the code numbers are listed in the appendix. Within each code number the entries are filed alphabetically.

The "Frankfurt Subject Catalog: Africa" is a section of the geographical catalog covering the country numbers 300 to 399. The present Volume 12,3 contains country number 360 Nigeria.

Below the titles you will find the call number under which the book can be ordered from the Stadt- und Universitätsbibliothek.

The copy deadline was december 1994. However, the catalog will be kept up-to-date by the current lists of "new Africa acquisitions".

We plan to publish further sections of the Frankfurt Africa catalog in regular sequence.

I would like to thank all my colleagues without whose effort the publication of this catalog would not have been possible.

Introduction

Le thème Afrique a une importance considérable pour la Stadt- und Universitätsbibliothek de Francfort/Main, puisque "l'Afrique au sud du Sahara" fait partie des collections spécialisées, qui, dans notre maison, sont favorisées par la Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft.

Avant la prise en charge de cette collection spécialisée se trouvait déjà à Francfort une collection africaine fort complète. La bibliothèque municipale d'autrefois doit son premier legs important de la collection orientale et africaine au fondateur des études éthiopiennes, Job Ludolf (1624–1704). Avec son travail sur la langue des Hottentottes, il se place tout au commencement de l'africanisme. Une collection de valeur de manuscrits éthiopiens fut transmise à la bibliothèque par le scientifique Eduard Rüppell (1794–1884).

Les stocks africaines furent maintenus à l'état actuel par l'achat de rapports de recherche et d'expédition contemporains et reçurent un élargissement dans tous les domaines spécialisés par la "Bibliothek der Deutschen Kolonialgesellschaft". Ce matériel de base inestimable (environ 15,000 titres de monographies, ainsi qu'un grand nombre de périodiques coloniaux) fut la cause d'un développement constant du stock de littérature africaine. L'attribution de ce domaine en tant que collection spécialisée 6,31 "l'Afrique au sud du Sahara" par la Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft en 1964 engagea la bibliothèque à acheter, le plus complètement possible, la littérature étrangère et allemande relative au domaine „l'Afrique au sud du Sahara“

Géographiquement appartiennent à cette collection spécialisée les états noirs africains concrètement tous les domaines à l'exception de l'économie moderne, du droit, de la médecine et des sciences naturelles.

La stock existant fut complété systématiquement. L'acquisition de la littérature scientifique disponible provenant d'Europe et d'outre-mer fut assurée, de même que le matériel venant directement d'Afrique dans la mesure où il était accessible. La collection africaine s'est accrue entre-temps de plus de 100.000 volumes. La littérature fut rassemblée sur l'Afrique dans son ensemble jusqu'à la 2. guerre mondiale; après celle-ci, elle se consacra principalement au secteur situé au sud du Sahara.

Dans le cadre de cette mission de collecte, la Stadt- und Universitätsbibliothek considère comme son devoir de rendre ces collections accessibles au plus grand nombre possible de lecteurs. La publication de notre catalogue-matières Afrique doit y contribuer.

Le catalogue-matières Afrique de Francfort s'articule d'après la méthode „Eppelsheimer“. Sa caractéristique principale est la combinaison de 3 parties de catalogue, qui se complètent réciproquement:

1. le catalogue systématique, divisé selon les matières scientifiques
2. le catalogue par pays, qui contient la littérature se rapportant à chaque pays ou aux continents
3. le catalogue des biographies renseignant sur chaque personne.

Chaque domaine du catalogue est divisé d'après des numéros-clés fixes, qui sont imprimés en annexe. Sous chaque numéro-clé se trouvent les inscriptions classées alphabétiquement.

Le catalogue-matières Afrique de Francfort constitue une partie intégrante du catalogue-pays dont les indices relatifs aux pays africains vont de 300 à 399.

Au dessous de chaque carte de titre se trouve la cote, sous laquelle le livre peut être commandé à la Stadt- und Universitätsbibliothek par l'intermédiaire de la bibliothèque compétente.

La rédaction du catalogue a été terminée en décembre 1994. On trouvera une mise-à-jour régulière du catalogue dans la "Liste des nouvelles acquisitions d'Afrika".

Il est prévu d'imprimer dans une série régulière les autres sections du catalogue Afrique de Francfort.

Il m'est nécessaire de remercier mes collaborateurs pour leurs efforts, sans lesquels la réalisation de ce catalogue n'aurait pas été possible.
