Briefe von Jeanette Wohl an Ludwig Börne

Nachl.L.Börne BIX, Nr. _____, Bl. _____

The first part of the paper is a list of names and addresses, which appears to be a directory or a list of subscribers. The text is written in a cursive hand and is somewhat faded. The names are arranged in columns, and there are some numbers interspersed among them.

In the center of the page, there is a rectangular stamp or seal. The text within the stamp is difficult to read due to its small size and the fading of the ink. It appears to contain some official information, possibly a date or a signature.

Below the stamp, there is a large, dark, irregular mark that looks like a smudge or a heavy ink blot. This mark obscures some of the text underneath it.

The bottom part of the page is mostly blank, with some faint, illegible markings that might be the end of a letter or a signature.

Handwritten text in the top left corner, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.
