The first of these is the fact that the population of the country has increased rapidly since the year 1850. This is due to a number of causes, the most important of which are the discovery of gold in California, the opening of the great western trade routes, and the general improvement of the country. The result has been a rapid increase in the number of inhabitants, and a corresponding increase in the amount of land cultivated. The population of the country has now reached a point where it is necessary to look for other sources of food and clothing.
 This has led to the discovery of new lands, and to the opening of new trade routes. The result has been a rapid increase in the amount of land cultivated, and a corresponding increase in the amount of food and clothing produced. This has led to the discovery of new lands, and to the opening of new trade routes.
