

Tagungsankündigung / Conference Announcement

International Symposium of Morphology 2019 (September 26 and 27, 2019; Paris, France)

Organizers:

Berthold Crysmann (LLE, CNRS & U Paris-Diderot)

Florence Villoing (MoDYCO, CNRS & U Paris Nanterre)

The second International Symposium of Morphology (ISM0 2019) will be held at the Université Paris-Diderot in Paris, France, on September 26–27, 2019. ISM0 follows the tradition of Décembrettes and the Forum de Morphologie as a biannual international conference, organised by the French community of morphologists.

Invited are submissions of original research on all aspects of morphology, without any restrictions regarding the language being studied or the theoretical framework chosen. Accepted are submissions for both talks and posters.

Possible topics include (but are not limited to):

- Inflection
- Derivation
- Construction and organisation of the lexicon
- Formal, typological, diachronic and sociolinguistic approaches
- Psycholinguistic, cognitive and computational approaches
- Interfaces with phonology, syntax and semantics.

Important dates:

Submission deadline: March 31 2019, 23:59 GMT

Notification: May 31, 2019

Revised abstracts: June 30, 2019

Conference: September 26–27, 2019

Invited speakers:

Rochelle Lieber (University of New Hampshire)

Vito Pirrelli (Istituto di Linguistica Computazionale, CNR, Pisa)

Website: <http://drehu.linguist.univ-paris-diderot.fr/ismo-2019/>

Contact: berthold.crysmann@linguist.univ-paris-diderot.fr