Meeting Email: imm20@nytud.hu

Linguistic Field(s): Morphology; Word Formation; Linguistic Theory

Meeting Description:

As the next event in the (by now) long series of Morphology Meetings in Central Europe, the 20th International Morphology Meeting will be held in Budapest, Hungary, between 1 and 4 September, 2022, organised by the Hungarian Research Centre for Linguistics. The meeting will serve as an event commemorating the late Prof. Ferenc Kiefer, one of the ‘founding fathers’ of the IMM series, who passed away in December 2020. The meeting will consist of a main session, a poster session, and four workshops.

Workshops:

- Analogy in inflection (Erich R. Round, Emily Lindsay-Smith, Sacha Beniamine – Surrey Morphology Group)
- The imperfectability of morphology: From analogy to anomaly (and back again) (Petar Milin, James P. Blevins)
- Back-formation in a new theoretical universe (Livio Gaeta, Fabio Montermini)
- Dissecting morphological theory 3: Diminutivization, allomorphy and the architecture of grammar (Stela Manova, Katharina Korecky-Kröll, Olga Steriopolo)

Plenary Speakers (in alphabetical order):

Jenny Audring, Universiteit Leiden

Ricardo Bermúdez-Otero, University of Manchester

David Embick, University of Pennsylvania
