INDEX TO SECRETARIAT RECORDS (1891-1939) HELD BY THE CENTRAL AFRICAN ARCHIVES

Explanatory Note

The records encompassed by this Index cover the period 1891⁺1939 and consist largely of the original numerical open and confidential series of correspondence.

Owing to the disastrous fire of 1919 few files remain of the correspondence prior to that year. In 1939 a new correspondence series was commenced using an alphabetical mnemonic system of filing numbers, and these have not yet been indexed. Various files from the numerical series were still in use at a later period, however, and are included in this Index - the most recent date of these being 1950.

The Index cannot be exhaustive as to the contents of the files, but it does give full coverage of the jacket covers (i.e. subject titles, personal, institutional and place names, and very often the name of the person or organization with whom the correspondence was conducted) from which it is mainly compiled. The cross-references are similarly extensive, though again not exhaustive.

Existing indexes are not invalidated by this Index, as the original filing numbers of the correspondence series have merely been prefixed by a new number indicating the form of record indexed. These prefixes are as follows:-

- 1 Open numerical correspondence series
- 2 Confidential numerical correspondence series
- 5 Colonial office despatches
- 6 Telegrams
- 7 Indexes
- 8 Registers
- 9 Foreign office prints
- 10 Sundry papers (Chilembwe Rising)

⁺ The original Secretariat (though not then called such) was only established as a Government Department in 1897. Records of an earlier date~~d~~ included in this Index are merely Foreign Office prints of correspondence respecting "Affairs North of the Zambesi River".
